Kumihimo is a form of Japanese braiding using various types of stringing material, often combined with beads to make exceptional jewelry. The term Kumihimo in Japanese means the gathering of threads. This technique involves using different types of looms to achieve different types of braids.

Getting Started with Kumihimo - Artbeads.com

The early history of Kumihimo is difficult to study due to the perishable nature of braid materials and the secrecy of braiding techniques. Braid patterns were not published until about 400 years ago. Throughout Japanese history Kumihimo braids have been used in many ways. Buddhism brought braiding to Japan and was used to clothing and ceremonies.
